

SOCIAL NOTES

Mrs. M. M. Scott and Miss Marion Scott gave a delightful buffet luncheon party on Thursday.

The Marcel Cerfs were well entertained during the past week. On Sunday Princess Kawananakoa entertained at dinner at her Pensacola street home, and on Monday evening they were motored to Haleiwa and back again, dinner being served at Haleiwa. Other guests in the party were Mr. and Mrs. James Wilder, Miss Kaufman and R. E. Wright. The Cerfs leave in the Manchuria.

Ex-Governor and Mrs. Carter and family will occupy a cottage at the Volcano House during July.

Mrs. Stubbs, formerly Miss Elsie Waterhouse, arrived on the Korea from London to visit her mother, Mrs. E. B. Waterhouse. Mr. Stubbs came with his bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Herbert returned during the week from their Oriental tour.

Mrs. Frederick Klamp is home again from a mainland visit.

Mrs. E. E. Paxton entertained on Friday afternoon at her home on Manoa Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilder entertained at a dinner party on Wednesday evening for the Marcel Cerfs, a moonlight motor trip following.

On Tuesday evening the dinner guests at the British Consul and Mrs. Forster were Governor and Mrs. Frear, Prof. and Mrs. Scott, Judd and Mrs. Wilder, Madame Frique and Dr. Anderson.

After a very pleasant visit here of two months Mrs. Milo Potter and daughter Miss Nina Jones of Santa Barbara left for home last Tuesday on the China. They were widely entertained during their stay and may return here again this coming winter. On Sunday last they and Bruce Cartwright and son, Bruce, made a trip around the island by auto as the guests of Captain Chapman. On Monday evening Mrs. Potter and daughter were dinner guests of the Harold Dillinghams, other guests being Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Wilder, Miss Marion Scott, Messrs. W. G. Irwin, Walter Dillingham and Bruce Cartwright Jr.

Responding to a cable call Mrs. Augur departed on the China last Tuesday for San Francisco, owing to the illness of her sister, Mrs. Otis, who was formerly a resident of Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. Hedemann will return from New York in June on the Siberia.

On Wednesday of last week Mrs. A. S. Wilcox gave a luncheon at her Kauai home in honor of Mrs. Timmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Leeds of Richmond, Ind., who have been guests at the Moana Hotel for two or three months leave for the Coast of the Manchuria.

At Mrs. E. D. Tenney's tennis party on Tuesday afternoon there were present Dr. and Mrs. Langhorne, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers, Mrs. Ivers Sr., Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Wilder, Miss Marion Scott, Miss Jessie Kaufman, Messrs. Lansing Mizner and W. G. Irwin.

Commander Dunning, U.S.N. (retired), brother of Major Dunning, U.S.A., commandant of Fort Shafter, arrived on the Korea, accompanied by his wife. They have been guests of Major and Mrs. Dunning at Fort Shafter. They leave on the Manchuria for Manila. Mrs. Dunning was a schoolmate of several Honolulu girls at Mills College, California.

News came to Honolulu during the week from Kohala that Miss Ivy Girvin had married Dr. Wayne P. Smith of Los Angeles.

In July General John McClellan, U.S.A. (retired), and wife, formerly Miss Emily Halstead, and their little son, will arrive from the mainland to reside here permanently. The General's two daughters, by a former marriage, will join him here this fall.

Miss Lydia Gibbons who is to become the bride of Gustave Schaefer this fall, departed for San Francisco on the China, accompanied by her father. She was given a lei send off by many friends.

Among the fair visitors from California now in Honolulu is Mrs. Scott, formerly Ethel Amweg, who attended Punahou a few years ago. She is here on her honeymoon and is a guest at the Moana. Mrs. Scott is one of San Francisco society belles of the younger set. She is wearing exquisite gowns.

Discussing the gowns which Mrs. Walter Scott, formerly Ethel Amweg, would wear while on her honeymoon in Honolulu, the Chronicle recently said: "Naturally all the gowns in the fair bride's trousseau expressed the very latest Parisian fashion caprices. As several months are to be spent in Honolulu and thereabouts, where the bride lived for three years or so, there were numerous dainty, filmy little summer gowns, so dear to the summer girl, many of them with parasol and shoes to match or harmonize. But there were elegant, stately gowns, too, for the big dances. One of the prettiest of these was a dinner gown of soft, supple black satin, the skirt hanging straight and unadorned from beneath a deep yoke made of heavy jet and embroidery. The back of the long-trained skirt was shirred for about six or eight inches, giving the skirt much fullness, which was further added to by the bias cut."

"The going away gown was a simple dark blue tailor-made, the material of some mannish stuff. With this Mrs. Scott wore a high turban, black, trimmed with two white and black uncurled ostrich quills. Another of her hats was a big black horsehair, Gainsborough style, adorned with a string of fancy jet and two silky, broad-tipped black ostrich feathers. Another tailor-made gown was of reseda green corded material, the gown in the popular two pieces. The coat was very long and narrow, sloping away from the front. It fastened with a single jet button, the outline being emphasized with a design of heavy narrow braid made on the cloth. The same braiding formed paneled lines down the sides of the skirt. The skirt was fastened to a bodice of dull gold net of heavy design, the entire bodice as well as the sleeves being braided heavily in green. Another tailor-made, natty little gown was of black. With this, Mrs. Scott had made a hat of old rose satin straw in the deep poke shape. The trimming is a simple wreath of velvet forget-me-nots, with a swag of velvet at the side."

The gown she wore at the wedding is described as follows: "Mrs. Scott's gown was of soft, clinging white satin, made very simply. The skirt was full, made with a long train, all the fullness coming from the shirrings at the back. It was princess in cut, fittingly loosely, the skirt coming from beneath a square bolero of white silk embroidery, the same pattern extending down either side of the skirt in narrower design. The upper part of the bodice was of hand-made net lace, the lace being cut low, in the Dutch style. The sleeves were of shirred lace. Over the fluffy, blonde hair, worn in Greek style, the bride wore a coronet of orange blossoms holding the voluminous veil. The bouquet was a shower arrangement of white orchids and lilies of the valley."

Miss Mabel Boardman, who was here with the Taft party four years ago this summer, is one of the most prominent persons in the history of the Red Cross relief work in the Italian earthquake districts. Miss Boardman, who is a Washington girl, will be pleasantly remembered by many Honolulu society people.

Miss Joel Seebie who recently arrived in Honolulu from the mainland is visiting at the home of Mrs. Gurrey, Manoa.

Mrs. Walter F. Frear with over fifty society ladies have consented to act as patronesses for the two Shakespeare recitals by Mr. Marshall Darrah of New York, who will recite at the Davies Memorial Hall, St. Andrew's cathedral, on June 21 and June 28. A number of receptions are planned for Mr. Darrah when he arrives on the Siberia.

Miss I. Marguerite Creighton, who has been attending the University of California, for the past year, has come home to spend her vacation with her mother, Mrs. I. L. Creighton, at 1445 Keeaumoku street.

The great round table in the private dining-room of the Alexander Young Hotel was occupied Friday evening by the guests of Captain Goodwin, late of the Dirigo, who gave a dinner in honor of Mrs. L. Tenney Peck. The decorations and the menu were both exquisite. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. Tenney Peck, Capt. Chapman of the Dirigo, Lt. Com. and Mrs. Moses, U.S.N., Paymaster and Mrs. Hornberger, U.S.N., Major and Mrs. Wadhams, U.S.A., Dr. and Mrs. Mackall and Walter G. Smith.

Mrs. Bickerton and Spencer Bickerton leave on the Manchuria for San Francisco. They intend spending the summer in Seattle and Vancouver.

Mrs. Edwin S. Gee, wife of the clerk to the army paymaster, is the most recent acquisition to the ranks of amateur entertainers in Honolulu. She recently arrived from Manila with her husband. Mrs. Gee is a graduate of the Radston University of Expression of Washington, D.C., and a pupil of Leland T. Powers. She is a reader of exceptional dramatic ability and comes with dattering press notices from Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Manila. Mrs. Gee is equally at home in tragic and humorous roles, her rendition of Enoch Arden with the Strauss musical accompaniment and a Midsummer Night's Dream with Mendelssohn's music being two of her more ambitious undertakings, while her repertoire embraces numerous monologues and sketches by Riley, Eugene Field, Kipling, Phelps and others. Mr. and Mrs. Gee have also a number of one act farces and burlesques with which they usually finish their program. Mr. Gee is a student of Chopin, possessing exceptional technique and playing with feeling and expression.

Dr. and Mrs. Hartland Law, who have been spending some days at Haleiwa, will return to town tomorrow.

Miss Juanita Hardaway and First Lieutenant Philip Wrightson, Twentieth Infantry, U. S. A., were married at St. Andrew's Cathedral on Wednesday evening, Bishop Henry Bond Restarick officiating. It was a pretty military wedding, the best man and the quartet of ushers being brother officers of the groom from Fort Shafter. The bridesmaid was Miss Frances Gillett, and the best man Lieutenant Chilton, Twentieth Infantry. The ushers were Captain Exton, Captain Shipley, Lieutenant Pardee, and Lieutenant McCleary, also of the Twentieth. The bride was given away by Dr. C. B. Cooper. Following the wedding a reception was held at the McGrew residence on Lunaliio street, after which a wedding supper was served. The bride is a niece of Dr. and Mrs. J. S. McGrew, and has resided here for the past two years. Lieutenant and Mrs. Wrightson are spending their honeymoon at the General Davis bungalow on Tantalus. They will sail for Manila on the transport Logan about June 13. The groom, after his recent promotion, was assigned to one of the companies in the two battalions ordered to Manila on the Logan.
